Most students look forward to the differences that await every school year. Some students set goals to make the honor roll while others made it a priority to land a spot on a varsity team.

When school reconvened in August, students realized Vision 2005 would change everything. The south gym was gone, new parking lots were present, and detour signs were everywhere. What once was a long walk from the student parking lot became an even longer hike to a temporary entrance.

And then, September 11. While freshmen and sophomores sweated through testing, juniors and seniors learned of the attack on the United States. This year had just become different for everyone. To describe it, there were... No Words Needed

We will never forget defeating the Carmel Greyhounds at their homecoming game; never forget the friends we made this year; never forget the teachers who had an impact on our lives; never forget the endless hours of stuyding that earned an A; never forget the choir performances; whatever we did, we'll just never forget it.

Homecoming

First Semester

As the first day of school began, students and teachers looked forward to a new semester full of new experiences. We thought we were ready for anything that might come our way. Some students anticipated staying late for musical rehearsal or sports practices. Several were there early every day to bring us the Wake Up Warren show. Others feared impossible tests and pop quizzes. School spirit soared two weeks later as Homecoming was upon us, and the football team swept us along on their victory trail to a second year as sectional champs. After the shock of the tragedies on the East Coast, we kept the mood positive by donating blood and raising funds for relief charities. Although it remained unseasonably warm weeks into December, we headed into Winter break with math equations, writing assignments, and plans with friends running through our minds and we all looked forward to what the rest of the year might bring.

Tragedy

12.21.01

September 11, 2001

America was taken by surprise the morning of September 11, when terrorists hijacked four passenger jets and crashed them into the World Trade Center towers and the Pentagon. As the destruction unfolded, everyone wondered who would do this, why, and how such horrible events could come to happen. Despite the initial shock, the citizens of this great country responded to the disaster in ways no one could have predicted, waiting in lines for hours to donate blood, giving money to organizations that helped with relief, and displaying the American flag to assert their patriotism and faith in humanity.

(Above) The World Trade Center twin towers burn just after United Airlines Flight 175 crashes into the south tower. As the world watched in horror, the towers spewed smoke and flames before crashing to the ground, forever changing the New York skyline. Despite rescue efforts, many workers, firemen, and police officers were trapped and killed as the buildings collapsed. Over 4,000 people were still missing a month after the incidents.

(Top Left) Students watch in awe as live news coverge reports on the unfolding tragedies. A brief announcement from Mr. Burchett made the school aware, and an external lockdown was implemented to ensure students' safety. Many businesses also shut down or evacuated, and classes came to a halt as students focused on history in the making.

(Top Middle) The American flag waves at half-mast outside a 10th Street firestation. The firemen also placed flags on the hill to show their support for the rescue and relief efforts in New York in the days after the tragedies. Displays of patriotism such as this became commonplace. September 14th was declared "Red, White, and Blue" day, and students dressed in the colors of the flag proved that the spirit of this country had not been damaged.

(Top Right) Students bow their heads at "See you at the Pole," a voluntary prayer gathering that took place outside the PAC at the flagpoles. Despite rainy conditions, many students showed up to pray for victims' families and show their support. Other students took advantage of moments of silence to pray or remember victims in their own ways.

(Right) Firemen take action in the relief effort at Ground Zero, the site of the fallen towers. The hijacked planes were full of fuel, causing temperatures upwards of 2000 degrees that melted the steel structures of the towers. The fires continued to burn in the eight-story pile of rubble for weeks, and the resulting smoke was visible over the bay for miles. Teams of firemen from Warren township traveled to New York along with helpers from across the nation, bringing needed relief to the local rescue workers.

Words of Encouragement

* * *

At a time when things in this country seemed to be falling apart, President George W. Bush's moving speeches brought people back together.

"This is a day when all Americans, from every walk of life, unite in our resolve for justice and peace."
address to the nation, September 11

"Whether we bring our enemies to justice, or bring justice to our enemies, justice will be done."
speech to Congress, September 20

"I want to remind America, we're still the greatest nation on the face of the Earth, and no terrorist will ever be able to decide our fate."
radio address, September 22

Krista Spiller, Sierra Martin, Erica Clark, Cori Marsh, and Melissa Ford recite the Pledge of Allegiance on the set of the Wake Up Warren morning announcements show. This display of patriotism became a weekly routine on Monday mornings. The Pledge was broadcast to every classroom as students joined in. Various guests were chosen to lead the pledge each week. This return to tradition was just one of many ways that people changed after the attacks.

The Pentagon stands with a gaping hole, delivering the terrorist's message of hatred to millions of Americans everywhere. The building was designed to withstand enemy attacks, but it could not hold up against a direct hit from a jet plane. The plane penetrated three of the building's five rings, each of which is separated by a cement wall two feet thick. The fuel from the plane caused a 3,000 degree flame that obliterated the section that was hit. Although Americans were outraged at this strike on a national landmark, they turned their anger into energy for volunteering and helping in any way possible.

By the Numbers...

4 Four passenger jets were hijacked by terrorists and turned into guided weapons, three of them found their targets. All planes across the country were subsequently grounded.

1:45 One hour and 45 minutes passed between the first plane crash and the crumbling of the second World Trade Center tower, the time is equivalent to the length of most movies.

4,000 In 1941, 2,300 servicemen were killed in the attack on Pearl Harbor; over 4,000, innocents were assumed dead in the September 11 attacks.

letters NHS sponsored a letter writing campaign where students addressed letters to the firemen, police and volunteers working in New York City and at the Pentagon.

relief Students in ceramics classes made and decorated pottery bowls and then sold them in the teacher's cafeteria. The proceeds went to the relief fund.

-Reactions-

"I was in the shower, and I thought the DJ's were telling a horrible joke. When I got out, I turned on the TV just in time to see the second plane hit. I have become much more patriotic. This disaster has united our country."

-Michael Teague, Senior

"When I first heard about the attacks, I was in shock. It didn't seem like it could really happen. When it finally sank in that so many people had died, I realized how precious life really is. We should never take things like freedom for granted."

-Lauren Oakley, Sophomore

"The world is no more dangerous than it was before. We are just more aware of its unpredictability. Our lives have never been in our own hands; now, more people may realize that fact."

-Mr. Rick Reed, English teacher

(Top) Senior Korrie Gillespie rushes the ball down the field to aid in the victory against Terre Haute North. The Warriors defeated the Patriots with a final score of 56-14. Gillespie hopes to pursue his career by attending Indiana State and becoming a football coach himself. "The sport has been great for me, and it is a very important part of my life," said Gillespie. "It has taught me a lot of responsibility and how to be a leader inside and outside of school."

The two had a combined final time of 31:15.0, which contibuted to Warren's 3rd place ranking out of 26 schools.

(Below) Sophomore Aricka Green and freshmen Renee Turner and Jessie Guldner scrub down a car for the Gold Brigade Marching Band car wash on August 25th. Band and color guard members worked in the sun to raise money for equipment to use during marching season. The car wash was held at three different locations: Sam's Club parking lot, in front of the Union Planters Bank, and in front of Toys "R" Us. Wal-mart matched the amount raised by the students to add to a total of approximately $2,500.

(above) "And now it is time for you to kiss the rat one more time!" These were the words announced by Alex Crusoe during the bonfire while Mr. Salemi took one last look at the rat. With many teachers chickening out, Salemi was the only one left for the kiss. This wasn't a big deal for Salemi though, he took the kiss like man.

Newly named Mr. Football, Senior Josh Lee, toughened it up during the bonfire, as Erin Shaw got the pleasure of shaving the hair off of Lee's right leg. The tradition of shaving Mr. Football's legs is one that has been around for years.

Posing for the camera, the class of 02 is all smiles. Spirit week always ends with Black and Gold day. Being able to show off school and class spirit, this is the most exciting day of the week for many.

Giving it her all, Junior Kimmy Adamson sends the ball back to the other side of the court. On August 30th the Varsity Volleyball team played a rough and tough game against Scecina. The girls worked together to defeat the Crusaders, 15-7 and 15-3. The ladies started the season strong, and found varying degrees of success throughout the rest of the season.

Senior Sam Griffin, the team captain, throws the ball in from out of bounds. As defensive player for the varsity girls soccer team, Griffin was a vital member . This was a home game played on October 15 against the Ben Davis Giants. The Lady Warriors fought hard but were no match for the Giants, losing 2-0.

(Right) Varsity soccer player Josh Lagler passes the ball to teammate Eric Kasper. The boys varsity team played at home against Park Tudor on August 21. The Warriors fought a tough battle but lost with a final score of 4-6. Lagler's soccer practice also helped him with his kicking on the varsity football team. "I would say that Lagler is one of the best players on the team," said Coach Roberts.

(Below)Varsity Cheerleaders lead the crowd in the school fight song at a home football game against Bloomington South. Senior Greg Schildmeier puts the ball back in play during the game against Center Grove. Despite a rough fight on their Senior Night, the Boys' Varsity team lost with a score of 3-5. During the half time the Seniors were honored for a hard-fought season.

The girls from the Varsity Volleyball team pump up their spirit with a chant before destroying Scecina on the court. This tradition, as well as many long hours of practice, helped to lead the girls to a successful season. The girls took this game with a score of 15-15. "We did better this year than we have in a long time," said Sophomore Beth Cedoz.

Danielle Druin-Moore, Senior, takes it up a notch as she steps in time in her aerobics class. The early morning class helped the girls to get in shape as well as to energize for the day to come. Despite the construction that tore down the north gym this year, many alternative athletic classes were offered to help students who wanted to work out during the day.

(Middle) Senior Bryan Henderson, who played Roger in the play, gets into the music as he croons his lyrics. He was one of the many guys in the popular group called the T-Birds. The T-Birds were a big part of the plot, so they all had their chance to shine in the spotlight.

(Bottom) Freshman Nick Coffing as Doody performs a singing and guitar solo. Nothing could hold back his talents as the girls stared dreamily at him. The four main characters all got their chances to prove their talent by performing solos.

(Left) Junior Erin Rettig as Sandy and sophomore Andy Galligan as Danny show off their dancing steps during the song "You're the One That I Want." Dancing was a major part of the play and the hardest part to learn. The actors had weekly grueling rehearsals that lasted up to seven hours. Yet, the outcome was successful and helped tremedously; the dances were very similar to that of the movie.

The actors bid farewell during their closing scene. The smiles on their faces displayed the pride felt by everyone after their impressive performances. They were ecstatic as the audience gave them a standing ovation every night. This performance turned out to be one of the best plays yet.

Senior Andrew Wilder draws the curtain up with one quick pull of a cord. He was one of the 23 members of the stage crew for Grease. The members scurried around making props and sets, moving props, lights, and controlling the curtain Thursday, Saturday, and Sunday. In preparation for the performance, the crew members spent their days after school for many weeks making sure everything would turn out perfectly.

Grease Goof-Ups: Behind the curtains with...

Meredith Morris
junior

"My most embarassing moment during Grease was on the Saturday night performance. I had a thirty second costume change after the second act dance. After I took off my prom dress, I turned to see four male teachers blushing. The teachers were written in as chaperones but after their cameo they got an eyefull."

Bryan Hair
senior

"During rehearsal for the scene "Grease Lightning" we were practicing jumping off of the car and when it was my turn I jumped on the car, but the car moved and I slipped and busted my butt."

Steffanie Oertel
sophomore

"I was in my prom dress and we were doing a move that was hard to do without traction on my shoes. Well, my shoes were really slick and I started to fall during the dance so I tried to catch myself and ended up stepping a hole in my dress and falling anyways."

Seniors Nicole Silverman, Alex Crusoe, Kristin Gray, and freshman Kristin English act out in a sing song manner as they perform the song "Freddy My Love." This was from the sleepover scene which was the most popular scene from the play. These girls got to shine in the spotlight as the group envied the most, the Pink Ladies, in the play.

Michael Watson leads the pack as the football team runs through the spirit banner. It was a ritual at every home game for the cheerleaders to hold the banner for the players as they came out of the locker room. This was one more way the players got pumped up before playing.

Determined to humiliate the Bears defensive line, Mark Bonds breaks through to score again. Throughout the game he scored two more touchdowns for the Warriors. Korrie Gilespie, quarterback, and running back Derell Echols, also scored. The final score of the game was Warriors 44 and Bears 0.

After a long season, all of the boys' hard work finally paid off. They finished off the season with a record of 7-1. In sectionals they defeated Broadripple, North Central and Lawrence Central.

(Below Right) Seniors Tara Benz and Elaine Dearing cut out penguins for the Christmas dance decorations. National Honor Society members stayed after school on Friday, December 7, and came in early Saturday, December 8, to complete the dance decorations. Members received one school point per hour to complete the 6 school points needed for NHS.

Junior Laura Verrill hangs a wreath over the balcony in the Commons. Decorating for the dance took a lot of planning and hard work, but it payed off in the end. The decorations displayed the theme: "Under the Sea."

What was your opinion of the Christmas dance?

Adrienne Harder, 11

"I thought the Christmas dance was boring. My date and I ended up leaving an hour after we got there."

Shane Whittington, 10

"The dance was fun, but it could have been better. My favorite thing about the dance was that everyone was having fun and there wasn't any violence."

Melanie Auble, 12

"I loved the way the Christmas dance turned out - the decorations and everything. My favorite thing was the gorgeous and unique decorations."

Jared Limbach,11

"I had an awesome time at the dance because it was a good time to spend with my friends, and because of all of the girls."

Children's Christmas Party

(Below) A little boy smiles as he opens a Christmas present. "It was really exciting to see the look on the children's faces when they opened their presents," said Senior Stephanie Thomas. The children weren't the only ones to receive joy from the Christmas party.

Just the Facts

- Students raised approximately $100 in their 10th period class or club to benefit the children.
- Student Council sponsored the event.
- Approximately 65 area children benefited from the Christmas party.

(Right) Mrs. Bravard reads from her script in the "Veteran Showcase." She played Mrs. Claus in the Christmas Show. Students who were enrolled in their second year of Readers' Theatre participated in special skits in the "Veteran Showcase." They had to put in a lot of work because they had to learn their class skits as well as the veteran skits.

(Left) Sophomores David Pearlman, Jen Byrne, and Stephanie Schutt, and Junior Nicole May act as shivering Christmas trees. They played the Christmas trees in the "Christmas Tree Strike" skit. This skit was a favorite with many of the young audience members. Readers' Theatre students went to elementary schools to perform their Christmas show.

(Below) Seniors Kiandra Tynes, Justin Scott, and Nate Jeter dress in tights and tutus while playing ballerinas in a veteran skit. The guys were good sports about their costume choice, and brought many laughs with their role.

(Left) Students from Period 4/5 act out a skit for the "Veteran Showcase." Acting out movements and doing the right voices was important to keep the audience entertained. The shows were held at 10:00 and 3:30. In previous years, there had only been one show, but this year two shows were necessary because the first show sold out rather quickly.

The Choir Christmas Performance

(Above) Senior Daniel Dixon sings an opera solo in Latin for the concert. The piece he was singing was from Shubert's Mass in G. Dixon was part of the Connections Show Choir. The Symphonic Orchestra performed along with the choir, adding an extra element to the show. This rare collaboration between music groups helped to draw large crowds to the PAC.

(Right) Senior Jenica Conway sings "I'll Be Home for Christmas," with the Connections Show Choir. The choirs performed on Thursday, December 13, and Friday December 14. Audiences remarked that it was the best Christmas concert presented in years.

(Above) For the final song, all of the choirs come together as one to sing "Cool Yule". The choir students spent a lot of time preparing for this number, as well as individual numbers. Practices were after school almost every day, and sometimes lasted until 10:00.

(Left) The Hi-Lites Choir, composed of all girls, sing and dance to "Mr. Santa." Almost all of the songs the choirs sing have choreography to go with them. The clothing and make-up were also very important in making a good stage presentation.

The War On Terrorism

Following the attacks on America, citizens began to see their world in a different light. Never before did we fear Anthrax in our mail, bombs or hijackers on our planes, or terrorism in our home towns. Despite these new fears, the country was swept with a wave of patriotism as we united for a common cause.

(Above) A US Marine takes a refreshing drink of water as a helicopter kicks up a cloud of dust nearby. The Marines of the 15th Marine Expeditionary Unit were in southern Afghanistan December 2, 2001 to command a secret airstrip and establish a stronger military presence. After war was declared on terrrorism, many soldiers moved to Afghanistan to clear out Al Quaida fighters and seek out Osama bin Laden.

(Opposite Page, Left) Senior Jesstina Lascola donates blood in the blood drive on November 21. Students had to meet age and weight requirements to be eligible to donate and had to pass blood tests the day of the drive. This was an easy way for students to aid in the home effort to support the war for freedom.

(Opposite Page, Right) Leah Richards and Amanda Horne play the bass clarinet in the Pep band. The band performed at home basketball games to increase school spirit. This year's flag-emblazoned shirts reflected the increase in patriotism that was felt nationwide, as did several of the patriotic songs they performed.

Events

Shortly after the attacks, top secret military actions began in Afghanistan as we hunted for Osama bin Laden and his Al Quaida fighters.

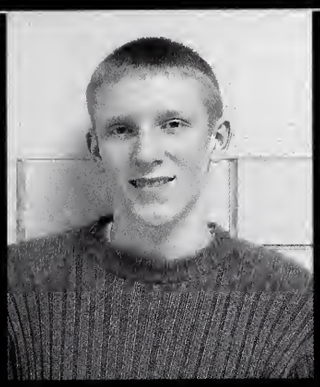
In America, people remembered loved ones lost with memorials at Ground Zero and at Yankee Stadium. Celebrities came together with special programs and musical tributes to commemorate the tragedies.

American planes dropped food and health supplies for the impoverished Afghanis who suffered due to the political turmoil in their country.

-Reactions-



"I think it's true that people are showing more patriotism. Athletes wear flags on their uniforms, and people who only put flags out on July fourth have put out their flags year-round."

-Reid Gray, Sophomore

"The President's address to the country made a big impression on me because he was so sincere about what he was saying. It's not very often that the President gets that personal with us."

-Megan Christians, Senior

"The security in airports is unreal. It is way too much, but I am glad that I am well protected. Terrorism should be eradicated so that we don't have to live in fear of being killed by terrorists."

memories

Seniors

It seems like only yesterday that we were freshmen, and now we find ourselves the graduating class of 2002. After years of sitting in classes wanting only for time to hurry, we realized how quickly it all passed us by. With our days at Warren over, we have a wealth of speciall memories. We were the captains of sports teams, had the leads in school plays and musicals, spent countless Friday nights with friends, and came together in times of need. As we start a new chapter in our lives, we do so with anticipation, anxiety, and hope for the future. Perhaps what we will take with us from this year the most is that life is precious and there is no better time than now to make the most of it. Whatever we will become, one thing that doesn't change is that we will always be the Class of 2002.

Graduation

Second Semester

Coming back from Christmas break, students anticipated snow days, or at least morning delays, to extend the winter fun. However, with an extraordinarily warm season continuing, snow was nowhere to be found. That didn't stop us as we celebrated Winterfest at the beginning of February with crazy school spirit days and fun activities to take up our time. Members of the orchestras, bands, and competition choirs put in hours of practice getting ready for contest season while the wrestlers fought their way to victory at Regionals. By the time Spring Break came around, everybody was ready for a week of relaxation! Seniors returned counting down the days to graduation as everyone struggled to keep their minds on their studies. Prom brought out a romantic side in many people, followed by a great time at Kings Island! We dreaded finals, but knew that summer was just around the bend. As we ended a year of joy and pain, victory and defeat, there really were No Words Needed.

Students from building trades put their skills to the test as they add shingles to the roof of the house they are building. Members of the class dedicated four semesters to the job, committing themselves to a difficult task. Many Career Center classes involved applications such as this to give students a sense of what the trade was like.

Mental Toughness X-tra Effort

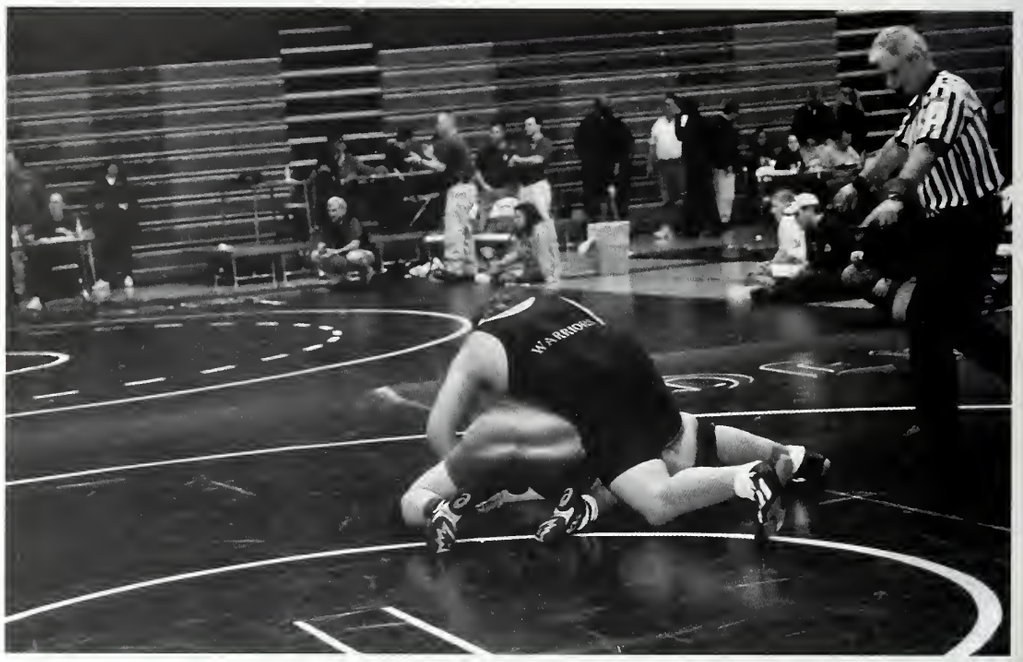
(Left) Senior Sam Cho conquered his contender Saturday, January 19th at the MIC Tournament. Cho wrestled at 135, and finished out his season with 28 victories and 12 losses. Cho was also a regional qualifier for the varsity team. One of the main goals this year for the wrestlers was to stay focused and be mentally prepared.

(Right) With his opponent pinned, Junior Britain Porter adds another achievement to his season. This win helped Porter receive a record of 7-6 and qualify for state. During practices the wrestlers talked of winning the MIC tournament and about the ways that they were all going to defeat their rivals.

(Left) Senior Byron Sanders, takes his opponent down for another victory. Sanders' record this year was 22-10 in the 152 weight class. Even though the team as a whole didn't end as well as expected, they still competed intensely. Coach Ledbetter always stressed mental preparedness so that the wrestlers could avoid being pinned.

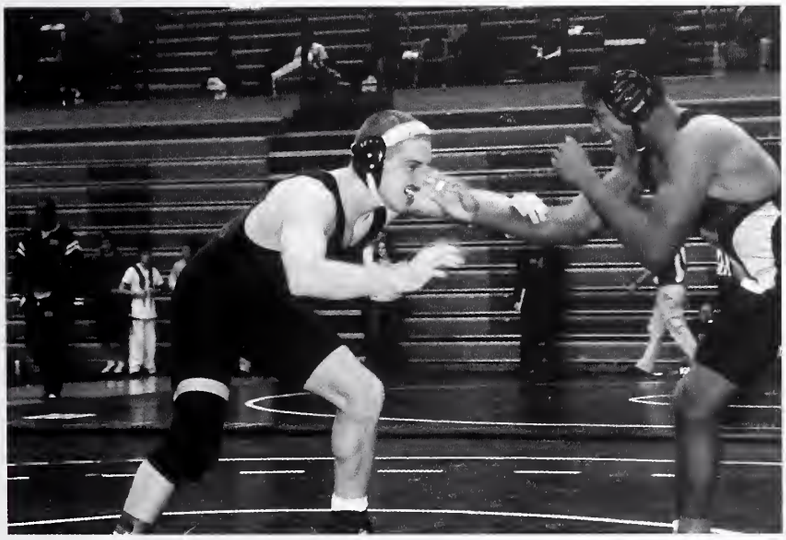
Senior Steven Powell stays focused while wrestling at the MIC meet. After winning this tough match, Powell added another notch to his victory list of 32 and 7. This year Warren took 13 wrestlers to the MIC Conference meet and ended up with six regional qualifiers, four semi-state qualifiers, a MIC Champion, and two Merrillville State Champions.

"In this game you stay focused and... you don't get pinned!"



(Left) Mike Clevenger puts the moves on to pin his opponent and leave himself with a record of 24 wins and 8 losses. The wrestlers came out just short of a victory on Saturday, the 19, but not because the guys lacked effort.

(Bottom) Senior Sam Cho put up a tough fight against his opponent, all the while remembering the advice and techniques learned from Coach Ledbetter and Coach Fleming.



(Top) The Warriors listen as Coach Ledbetter gives inspiration. Thirteen wrestlers from Warren competed at the MIC Invitational. Steven Powell, senior, was recognized as the MIC Champion. The team brought forth a marvelous season with numerous victories.

(Bottom) Senior Jon Anderson started this match with a bang. Anderson wrestled at the weight class of 171 and ended his season with 31 wins and 8 losses. Anderson was also a county champion and a semi-state qualifier. After warming up, Andersonand his teammates always bowed their heads to say their team prayer. Afterwords they talked about what was expected during the matches.

Behind the Scenes

curling * Featured for only the second time in Olympic history at the Salt Lake City games, it was a demonstration sport in 1924 and 1932, and again in 1988, but was not classified as a competition until the 1998 games in Nagano, Japan. The sport is similar to shuffleboard and is played on an ice rink.

freestyle skiing * Only in its third Olympic season, freestyle skiing has two forms of competition, aerials and moguls. In the aerial competition, the skier makes his way down the hill to a jump, the performs tricky twists and flips in the air before trying to stick the landing on both skis. The moguls competition includes a very bumpy hill that the skier must go down, and two jump sites.

skeleton * Making a return after a 54-year absence from the games, 2002's skeleton competition featured a men's and women's division. The sport requires the competitor to race a sled down an ice track face-first.

biathlon * This difficult competition combines elements of cross-country skiing and hunting. Moving as fast as possible across a designated trail, competitors must pause to fire at targets as they make their way to the finish line.

Senior Jennifer Dayton laughs from the ground after falling during a ski trip at Mad River Mountain in Ohio. Due to an unseasonably warm winter, students looking for fun in the snow had to travel far. Many ski resorts made up for the lack of snow from the sky by making their own. Other popular forms of winter entertainment included ice skating at indoor rinks, or simply watching competitors from Salt Lake City on TV and wishing you were there.

Winter Olympics 2002

As the host of the 2002 Winter Games in Salt Lake City, Utah, America opened its arms to athletes from nations around the world. A controversial Olympics, the games saw competition in relatively new sports, discrepancies in judging and athletes' performances, and upsets by competitors that took specators by surprise. The games ran from February 8 to 24.

(Above) Entering the final round of the Women's skating competition in fourth place, no one expected sixteen-year-old American Sarah Hughes to walk away with a gold medal, least of all herself. "I skated for pure enjoyment, that's how i wanted my Olympic moment to be," quoted Hughes. Another shock to the skating world was the awarding of two sets of gold medals to pairs skating couples after it was revealed that a judge had been pressured to lower the Canadian skaters' scores. The Russian pair skaters kept their gold, and Jaime Sale and David Pelletier were awarded a gold medal later in the week.

(Opposite, Top Left) American Women's Bobsled team member Vonetta Flowers sheds tears of joy as she waves the flag of her country after winning the gold in competition. All-women's teams were not seen in co-ed competition against men until the 1940's, and were promptly banned when they came close to victory. In addition to it being the first women's competion ever, the victory had an extra sweetness to it, as Flowers became the first African-American to ever win gold in Olympic competition.

(Opposite, Top Middle) Ross Powers cuts the air with his snowboard during the halfpipe competition. A relatively new addition to the Olympics, the sport remains a cotroversial one. Loud rock music blares as competitors race down hill or move back and forth across the halfpipe to perform complicated tricks or 1080 degree spins in the air. In true American rebel form, the United States team swept the medal stand in the Men's Halfpipe competition, as Kelly Clark took gold in the Women's competition.

(Opposite, Top Right) American speed skater Apolo Anton Ohno clasps his hands over his head as he hears that his Korean opponent was disqualified for cross-tracking, leaving Ohno with the gold medal. At only 19, Ohno was a hopeful to take gold in each of his four races. Disentangling himself from a pile-up during the 1,000 M race earlier in the week, Ohno sccoted himself across the finish line to take silver. The crash left him with six stitches in his left thigh, but this was not enough to keep him from the gold in his final race, the 1,500 M.

What We've Become...

(Right) Senior, John Adams goes up for a shot against the Franklin Central Flashes defense. The Warriors left our gymnasium with their heads held high after winning 49- 44. Adams, 30, along with the entire Varsity team had a momentous season with numerous victories and accomplishments won.

(Opposite page) "Everything bad that could have happened this season happened," says senior wrestler, Danny Williams. "From the beginning of the season when Chad died, to when I broke my leg in December; however, maintaining mental toughness caused me to win state." Williams won state two years in a row and plans on furthering his experience on the college level.

What We Gave...

Second year physics students Trisha Staab and Matthew Gambino study for one of Mr. Landy's "unmanageable" tests. "First year physics was easy," said Trisha Staab. "Mr. Landy tries to make second year unbearably hard, and he does, but he also makes it fun. If it wasn't for him, I would have hated the class or possibly never have taken it."

What We've Imagined...

(Above) The theme was Imagination, and the Hi-Lites revealed their imaginations during the fun-filled evening for Parents Preview Night. Junior Jazmine Barham broke it down while singing the intro to Platform Shoes. The girls worked hard to put together each and every show, and on the side worried about appearance with their big hair and exaggerated make-up. With all of the effort put into the show, the girls felt relieved after they made it to finals.

(Top Right) "To me, wrestling is courage, honor, discipline, integrity, and fun," said senior wrestler Joe Wise. Wise placed 5th at the state MIC competition. He was upset for not accomplishing the goal he had set for himself, to win state, but was not upset with his overall season.

Who We've Inspired...

(Above) Senior Brandon Alstott was the star of the night with his solo to the Engine of Love. His lady skaters, Lyndsey Bowen, Jenica Conway, Erin Rettig, and Laura Fielder accompanied him. All are active members of Warrens top mixed vocal competing choir, the Connections. Before the contest season, the Connections hosted a Parent Preview Night to allow parents a glimpse at the choirs' entire contest shows.

(Top) Junior Jennifer Smith and freshmen Sara Larman and Chelsea Rockwood have fun and joke around in between laps. Everyone agreed that swimming takes great dedication and hardwork to conquer the challenging season. To get prepared for meets they stretch and do motivational cheers.

(Bottom) "Subway baby!" says senior Nick Hobbie. "The team usually goes to Subway, eats on the pool deck, plays around, and talks. This is how we relax before meets. Sometimes your nerves get to you, but you can always count on your teammates to make you forget them." The swim team had a great season with many new- comers helping to win more races and meets.

(Left) Ashley Mays, senior, goes for a lay-up to try to earn the Lady Warriors a couple points on the board. A disappointing loss against the Ben Davis Giants, the Warriors walked out with a score of 45- 58. The ladies ended the season with 10 wins and 11 losses.

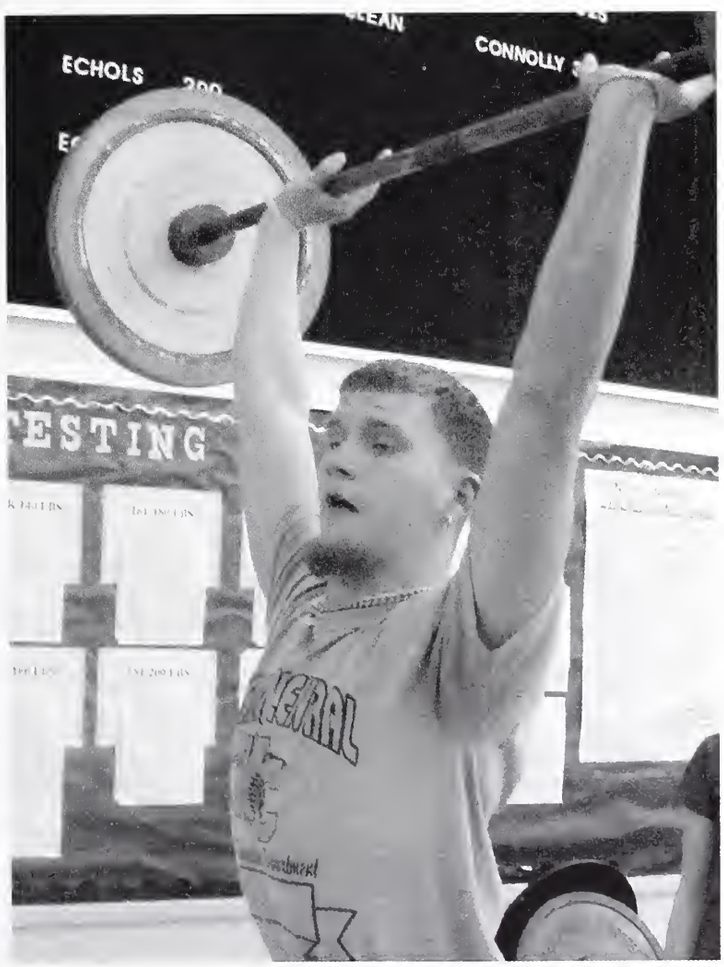
(Right) The Boys' Varsity baseball team huddles up to prepare for their game against New Palestine. The boys defeated New Palestine with a final score of 3-2. Seniors Jake Armstrong and Kyle May contributed in pitching, while Juniors Ryan East, Jarrod Limbach and Justin Browning excelled in batting.

Senior Jennifer Fleming and the rest of the symphony orchestra practice on stage for their performance. The orchestra was practicing for their classical performance and the ISSMA contest. Mr. Payne, along with the rest of the orchestra, put a lot of time and effort into preparing for the show.



Junior Jon Tribby lifts weights in weight class. Many athletes at Warren Central were engouraged to take the weight class to prevent injuries and build strength. Tribby stated, "Physically it [weight lifting] keeps you in shape and it teaches you to mentally think you can overcome anything you put your mind to it."

(Right) Junior Joe Akers discusses the murder of Nathan Wimberly, played by Junior Brian Capps, in the skit "Murder at the Banquet." "Murder" was just one of the shows in "An Evening of One Acts," a production put on by Coffee House Theater. "Everyone knew their lines," said Akers, "and I think the show went really well."

A Midsummer Night's Dream

Natalie Stenzoski and John Murdoch act out scenes from "A Midsummer Night's Dream" by William Shakespeare Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 21-23. With a different cast each night, more than 50 students were able to perform in the play. The casts practiced during drama classes and after school every other day for 5-3 hours. The many hours of practice made for an excellent performance.

Noah Winston and Jenny Houppert play out the scenes of mixed-up lovers Demetrius and Hermia on stage. The Lovers had a difficult part to portray, including serious as well as humorous scenes. After being enchanted by Puck, Demetrius and Lysander fought over Helena's love, while Hermia sought to win back Demetrius' affection. This confusing situation ended with a comedic chase reminiscent of scenes from cartoons.

Let's Quote it...

'What thou seest
when thou dost wake,
Do it for thy true-love take.'

Getting ready for opening night, Senior Jennifer Fleming applies her show make-up. "I decided to be in the play," said Fleming, "because I love Shakespeare, and 'Midsummer' is one of my favorites. I was lucky they opened some roles to audition this year." In most plays, the parts are closed to anyone who is not a member of drama classes.

As the Mechanicals, Steve Walker, April Hancock, Beth Cedoz, Mary Cho, and Uriel Caldera practice for the performance their characters will act out for the Royals. "My favorite part of being in the play was probably the play within the play," said Cho. Even though the Mechanicals had scripted parts, their improvisational skills and ability to deliver their lines just right made this one of the most humorous parts of the performance.

Titania and her attendant fairies pose for the camera in the dressing room before the show. In "A Midsummer Night's Dream," Titania, played by Meridith Morris, and her fairies, Kristen English, Jennifer Fleming, Megan Murphy, Melissa Raber, and Jaqueline Cooper, entertained Pyramus after Titainia was enchanted to fall in love with him, even though Oberon had given him a donkey's head. Oberon's magic and Puck's mischief caused lots of problem for the other characters.

Midsummer Goof-ups:

Behind the curtains with...

Jennifer Fleming
Grade 12

"The funniest goof-up would have to be on the final night 'J' Hagley knocked down one of the trees on the set right into the spot where I was supposed to sit for curtain call, so I had to sit in the tree."

Adrienne McDade
Grade 12

"My most embarrassing moment was when my foot fell through the set of papier mache and chicken wire rock!"

Jinny Harshman
Grade 10

"For me, the most embarassing part of the night would have to be when I went to run out on stage for the end of the play and I almost fell in front of everyone!"

(Above) Senior Alex Crusoe and Freshman Kristen English act out the opening scenes of the play. The audience was breathtaken by the incredible set that was revealedwhen the curtain rose, which included a real waterfall and lots of foilage. "The entire show was good," said English, "but the awesome costumes and gorgeous set really added to it." The setting of the play was changed to a Polynesian island to avoid the stereotype of fairies set by Disney.

Pyramus and Thisby speak to each other through Wall, played by Steve Walker, Uriel Caldera, and James Victery. "While playing Pyramus, without a doubt the most embarrasing thing was when I did my little dance in my donkey hat," said Walker. Everyone enjoyed the humorous scenes put on by the Mechanicals.

(Right) Senior Megan Hunter pitches the softball across the field, striking out the Carmel Greyhounds player. Despite a tough fight, the Girls J.V. Softball team played hard to a final score of Carmel 8 and Warren 1.

(Upper Right) Pike Township Officer Codoz, with dog Ozzie, explains to Mrs. Smith's pet-care club how Ozzie sniffs out bomb chemicals and gun powder. As a demonstration, Codoz planted gun powder in a box of tissues. Ozzie's job was to detect the powder and sit down next to it, a sign to the officer that there were illegal substances near by.

(Middle) Junior Rachel Phillips slams the ball, sending it across the court. The girls j-v tennis team showed Ben Davis just how great the Warriors are with the score 5-0. Phillips' scores were 6-1 and 6-0.

(Bottom Right) Senior Harold Wicks jumps to block the ball as Mr. Comiskey passes it inbounds. The Senior-Faculty basketball game was a spirited attempt by the class of 2002 to repay the faculty they have sudied under. Despite a great effort, the Seniors were defeated 81 to 7.

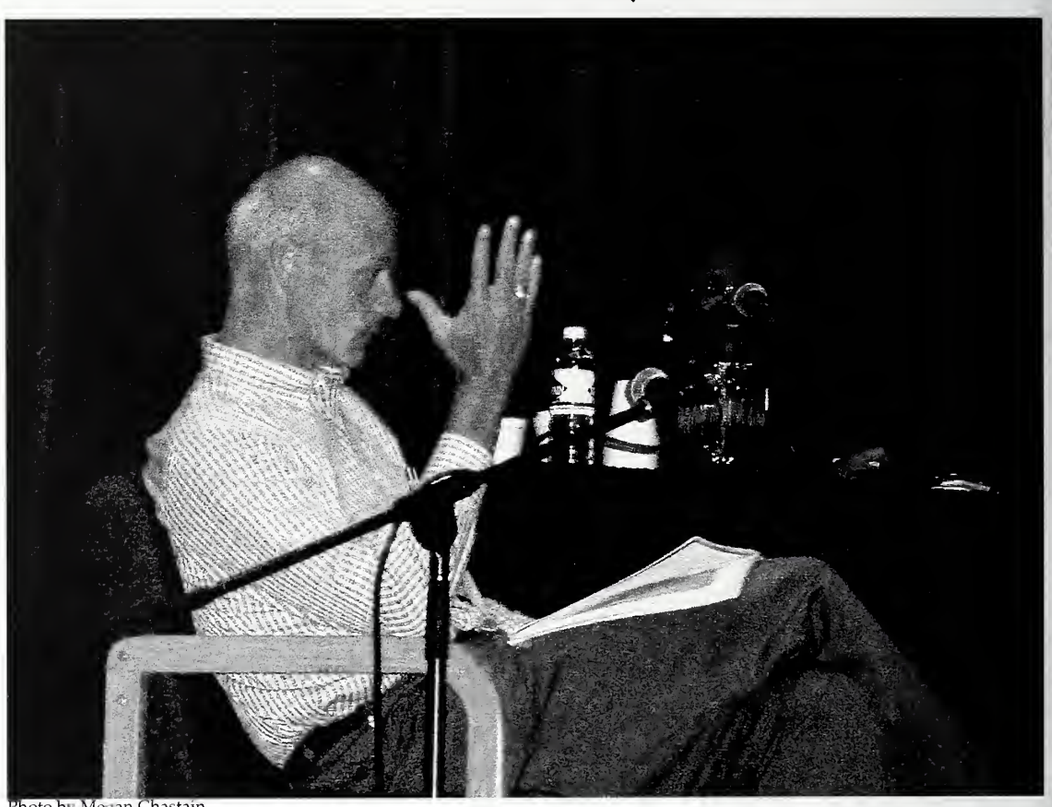
The IR Trial:

Is the U.N. an effective organization?



Mr. Steve Kent speaks as Kofi Annan in the International Relations trial. Kofi Annan is the Secretary General of Peace keeping. He believed the United Nations was an effective organization, and defended it when he was questioned.

Mr. Dave Burton speaks as Enrique ter Horst, the ambassador in the Foreign Service of Venezuela, in the trial, as Stephen Jennings questions him. Horst also believed that the United Nations was effective in promoting world peace.

The IR Trial

- The defense won, proving that the United Nations was an effective organization.
- Famous speakers included Kofi Annan, Yasser Arafat, Bill Clinton, Catherine Bertini, and Slobodan Milosevic.
- It took the International Relations class about a month to prepare for the trial.
- Students in the class argued whether or not the United Nations was effective in promoting peace. The defense tried to prove that the United Nations was effective in promoting peace, while the prosecution tried to prove it was not.

Senior Nate Delay questions Mr. Danny Jarret, who served as Aldo Ajello. Delay was a defense attorney for the prosecution. Ajello was the Special Representative of the Secretary General for peacekeeping operations in Mozambique. Delay tried to get Ajello to tell the court about the wrongdoings of the United Nations.

Senior Sarah Milianta served as a lawyer for the defense. Milianta questioned various witnesses to prove that the United Nations was an effective organization. Milianta was a great asset to the defense side, helping convince the court that the UN was an effective organization.

These Are the Times

... A night to remember

On the evening of April 27, 2002,
we dressed in our Best Attire, posed for Pictures at home, and left for the Indiana Roof Ballroom to dance the night away.
An elegant Dinner was served from 6:00 to 8:00, complete with Warrior Logo Ice Sculptures.
The Decorations were beautiful in Burgundy and Gold.
We danced to all our favorite songs and were reminded by Dru Hill
"These are the Times
we all wish for..."
Not willing to end the fun at 11:00
we took it with us to King's Island, and we will cherish these memories forever.

(Clockwise From Right) 1. Seniors Jenica Conway, Kristen Swisher, and Lyndsey Bowen move in time with the music. Not only was the Prom a romantic evening, it was an excellent chance for close friends to spend time together. 2. Huddling under an umbrella, girls hurry to get in out of the rain that persisted throughout the weekend. Students sought parking as close to the Indiana Roof as possible in an attempt to avoid the weather. 3. Students dance to the moves of the "Cha-cha Slide," a relatively new and popular line dance. 4. ZeNai Savage and Swen Drane look down from the balcony at the Indiana Roof Ballroom. Students stepped away from the dance floor to take a break and spend some quiet time together. 5. Gerald Footman and Marlena Russell pose for the cameraman to get their photos professionally taken. This was a way to preserve the night of memories for years to come. 6. Joel Godsey and Marlena Steiner dance to "These are the Times" by Dru Hill after being crowned Prom King and Queen.

Seniors Annita Harding and Marleena Russel disect a cat in Mr. Gray's ninth period anatomy and physiology class. The purpose of opening the "Friendly little Felines" were to show students what a large mammal's organs looked like. "We couldn't use a real human," said Mr.Gray, "so we had to improvise. This was the next best thing."

Senior Nick Hobbie takes a break from playing the "Grimm Reaper," a prom week activity, to study in his ninth period A.P. calculus class. The "Reapers" job was to select a certain number of students to show how many kids die due to drunk drivers on prom night. The selected students wore black arm bands and could not talk at all during the day.

The Reader's Theatre stars of "A Show on Patriotism," end the night with a big bang leaving the audience mesmerized. "Patriotism" was the groups final ticketed performance of the year. The only shows left were for the elementary schools.

Reader's Theatre members feel good about their final public performance. Many seniors were bittersweet about the shows end, which signlaed the end of their career under the lights. The show went so well that the audience delivered a two minute standing ovation during the middle of it.

Freshman Lydette Assefa puts her all into the race as she surges forward, making her way to the finish line during the Warren Relays. Warren Central once again showed how great they were as they left everyone behind and captured first place.

Senior Steve Courtney takes a short par putt. The boys golf team took a fifth place in the May 14 tournament at Lawrence Central. The golf team fought hard against the other 10 teams but came out a little short of a victory. The boys came in to the Lawrence meet with 13 wins, 2 losses and a tie.

Mr. Payne makes an announcement to calm the crowd down after the exciting performance by the orchestra. "The show was amazing," stated Mr. Payne, "but then again it was kind of like a dress rehearsal for the following Saturday when we had contest." The spring show for the orchestra was held on Tuesday, April 30 at 7:30 P.M. The orchestra received a division 1 rating during the weekend contest.

Members of the softball team discuss last minute strategy before the start of their game against Lutheran on Wednesday, May 8th. The team ended the game with a final score of 49 to 44. Shortly before this game, senior Megan Hunter signed a full ride scholarship to Marion College to play softball next year.

Mr. Payne conducts the symphony orchestra as they play one of their many songs during their spring concert. The orchestra consists of over 60 members who put in numerous hours a week to make sure that their performance is perfect.

Senior Justin Wenger follows through with his swing as he proves that there is nothing that can hold him back from winning his match. The varsity boys golf team showed Brebeuf what Warren golf was really about. The boys defeated Brebeuf with a score of 101 to 77.

With putter in hand senior Joe Johnson takes a look at where he needs to line up the ball in order to make the putt. During the MIC Tournament on Saturday, May 18, the boy's golf team added another "W" to their list with a winning score of 101 to 77. At the tournament the varsity golf team ranked first out of 10 teams.

Senior Mike Watson easily clears the high jump bar at an amazing height of 6'2 during the Warren Relays on May 2. The team placed 2nd overall in the meet and also were ranked 2nd in the state.

(Left) Junior, Zenai Savage aims for another school record during Warren Relays on May 2. Earlier in the season, Zenai set the school record with a throw of 43 feet and 2 inches, enough to earn her a spot at the state meet.

(Below) Seniors Nate Delay, Ryan Cox, and Paul Bamford, appear at the winterfest game in style. "The Warriorettes" modeled themselves after the Washington Redskins "Hogettes." The Hogettes are a group of male fans who wear women's clothes and pig snouts for each game.

(Above) All choirs get together for the last concert of the year, held May 22 and 23. This year's show paid tribute to the different branches of the military.

(Right) The Connection choir raises their hats in a salute for their last show of the year titled "Made in the U.S.A." This was just one of many ways that Warren students celebrated their patriotism. The show was a great success.

(Right) Senior Lyndsey Bowen focuses on her number during a song in the "Made in the U.S.A." concert. A variety of the songs were dedicated to the veterans, and to those actively serving the armed forces.

(Below) Senior Amy Richardson and Junior Christina Wurster sing "Way Down Yonder in New Orleans." The concert also recognized each of the seniors on Thursday night with a special program portion.

The boys track 4x800 and 4x400 team pushes through a tough practice at IUPUI, on Tuesday, May 28th to prepare for the upcoming state meet. The team practiced many extra hours to make sure that they came out on top with a victory on Saturday, June 1. Pictured to the left were state qualifiers: Jo Dicicco, Cassidy Savage, Brandon Cole, Byron Sanders, Matthew McCarty, DeShawn Echols, Abdoul Toure, Josh Harvey, and Orlando Collins.

Starting off the race, junior Danielle Logan pushes off in hopes of a win. On Monday, May 20 the girl's varsity track team continued their winning streak with regional win at Lawrence North. All of the girls put in numerous hours of practice to take the regional championship with a final score of 85 to 115.

Saying a good luck prayer just before their next run, junior Danielle Logan and Senior Brandi Moncrief prepare mentally for their next big run. On Tuesday May 14th the girl's varsity track and field team won the sectional match against Lawrence North. Logan and Moncrief were both top finishers in the races that they ran.

Update: America at War

As the United States and the rest of the world continued the crusade against terrorism, we were faced with the horrors of suicide bombings, hostage situations, and the hunt for the leaders of terrorist movements. American troops continued to fight in Afghanistan as Pakistan opened its borders to aid our soldiers. The world watched with hope as the efforts for peace progressed.

(Above) Two beacons of blue light shine up into the sky, filling the void left by the destruction of the twin World Trade Center towers. This temporary memorial helped to bring closure to the families of many victims. After the cleanup at Ground Zero was completed, talks about what to do with the site included plans to reconstruct the world-famous structures and plans for a more permanent memorial.

(Opposite, Left) An Afghan women works diligently on her medical school entrance exams. After the Taliban took power in Afghanistan, women were forced to wear full-coverage veils called burquas and were banned from attending schools. Men were made to grow full beards and dress and behave following strict rules. With the aid of American soldiers, The Taliban forces were overthrown. Afghan citizens throughout the country promptly celebrated by shaving their beards, removing their veils, and re-entering scholastic programs.

(Opposite, Top Right) Seniors Carrie Williams, Brooke Bullock, Jenica Conway, and Molly Armstrong smile together on USA Pride day, the second day of Senior Week. Although the second dress up day was changed from the traditional Toga Tuesday to honor the rise of patriotism in the country, many seniors chose to honor tradition by wearing togas with red, white, and blue patterns. The school continued to display patriotism by participating in events such as a second blood drive and letter writing campaigns sponsored by Student Council.

(Opposite, Bottom Right) President George W. Bush gestures to the crowd as he speaks in honor of fallen police and firemen. The annual event was unusually momentous in 2002 due to the great loss of rescue workers on 9-11. Rather than look back with regret or anger, Americans strove to keep their eyes to a peaceful future by justly continuing to battle terrorism.

With so many sports teams, clubs, and activities available to join, every Warrior could find a perfect place to fit in. There was no way to tell what hidden talents were kept behind the faces we passed in the hallways. Students shined in the spotlight on stage, performing in the theatre, choirs, bands, and orchestras. Some displayed their athletic talents by leading their teams to victory or keeping their heads up in defeat. Other groups displayed great academic achievements, proving that Warren is a first-rate school. Wherever the place, whatever the time, Warren students and faculty came together to make this school year memorable.

Mrs. Baldwin takes a little off the top for Mr. Kent. The haircut tradition was kept alive by the two throughout the year. Faculty and students alike looked for opportunities to lighten up the days that all too often seemed overloaded with homework, studying, and tests.

Senior students line the hallways during a springtime tornado drill. The statewide drills were held to teach students how to protect themselves in case a storm should strike. Although the alarms became annoying and seemed to never stop, the practice was beneficial.

Amy Richardson stretches for the ball at first base in her Varsity Softball game against Carmel on April 16. Players fought hard to make the school proud. Sports teams put forth a great effort this year, bringing home many victories to boast about.

Winter Guard

(Far Right) Lindsay Otto studies her music intently as she performs on her flute. The Honors Band advanced to ISSMA State competition and placed 15 out of 243 bands in Division 1.

(Right) Brass and Percussion players of the Honors Band practice in class. The Honors Band had a successful season, performing "Lincolnshire Posy," "Hobbits," and "Pageant." "Hobbits" continued the tradition of playing music from Lord of the Rings; the previous year they performed "Gandalf."

Class of 2002

Stacy Tilford

Stacy,

Congratulations on your graduation. Wow! Where did the years go? It seems like yesterday we were bringing you home from the hospital. It must seem like it's taken a long time to get here, but you've finally done it. We are so very proud of you. You have accomplished a great deal. You have been successful in everything that you have done and I'm sure the next phase of your life will be no different. Just remember we will always be here for you no matter what life brings you and always remember to believe in yourself no matter what.

Love you always,
Mom & Dad

Class of 2002

Kristina Robertson

Kristina,

Time has flown by quickly; just yesterday, a shy, little girl was taking her first steps onto the "Big Yellow Bus" beginning her journey to adulthood. Today you've grown into a remarkable, beautiful, caring, young woman preparing to take another "first step," starting a new chapter in your life. Always remember to believe in yourself and let nothing stand in between you and your goals or dreams. You have had many roles in your life, AWESOME big sissy, loyal friend, caring heart, athlete, student, but most imortantly, loving daughter. Wherever life takes you, enjoy the ride....and don't forget to write. Your "Fambie" is proud of you and loves you bunches - CONGRATULATIONS.

Mom, Daddy, and Stephen

Class of 2002 Meganne Schickles

Dear Meganne,
Lots of love and best wishes on your graduation. We are proud of your accomplishments and how you will excel in your college years.

Love,
Mom, Dad,
Sarah, Chris,
and Kyle

Class of 2002 Erika Ramirez

Erika,
Hija, nosotros tus padres estamos orgullosos de ti. Esperamos que cumplas tus aspiraciones ya que creemos que lo lograras. Parece que fue ayer cuando estabas tan pequena y ahora ya eres una senorita. Que Dios te bendiga y te cuide. Buena suerte en Butler.

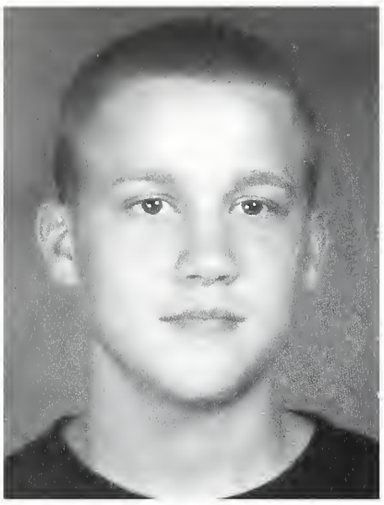
Love,
Mama, Papa, y Hermanas

Class of 2002 Abigail Trueblood

Abigail,
Our precious little "Boo Boo Kitty" is now a beautiful young woman. We are so proud of you.
Follow your heart and your dreams.
The world is yours.
You can be anything you want to be.
Love,
Dad, Mom, and Josiah

Class of 2002

Nick Burgess



Dear Nick,

We are so very proud of you! You overcame many obstacles to get here. We are confident that your optimism and your big heart will carry you through good and bad times. Trust yourself-you have good instincts. Follow your heart and dream big!

Love,
Mom & Dad

Class of 2002

Melanie Auble

Dear Melanie,

On the day of your birth a shining light came into our lives. From bunnies to prom gowns, your light has continued to shine ever brighter with your love and many accomplishments. We are very proud of you and congratulate you on your Senior year.

Love,
Dad, Mom, & David

Class of 2002

Lorna Sanders

Lorna Elaine,

Congratulations! It seems like just yesterday you were learning to read and write and ride a bike. Now you're driving a car and graduating high school. It's amazing how you've matured and progressed over the years.

We've enjoyed watching you perform in Hi-Lites and theater. Everything you've accomplished, you've learned quickly and done well. We're very proud of you, Lorna!

Keep up the good work in the future. Always do your best and never settle for less. God Bless you, Lorna.

Love,
Mom & Dad

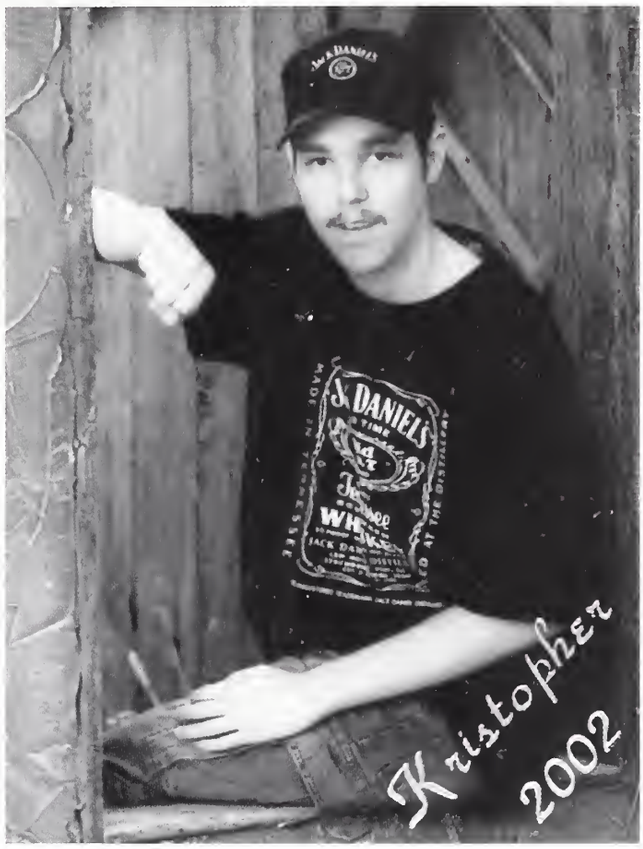
Class of 2002

Kristopher Carey

Kristopher,

We've always been proud of you, loved you, and adored you. Words can never express the joy and happiness you've given us since the time you put on that hat, and sang Hank Jr. songs. You've worked hard and accomplished so much. You've spoken your mind, followed your heart, and always made us proud to call you our son. May whatever path you follow after graduation lead you to happiness, love, and always home. Make the most of each opportunity, enjoy life, and follow your dreams. We love you and will always be there for you. Congratulations.

All Our Love,
Mom & Dad



Class of 2002

Chelsea Humble

Chelsea,

The years have come and gone so quickly and now you are almost ready to fly on your own. Always remember Jesus gives you the ability to fly and He is the wind beneath your wings. You have been a joy to raise. We love you always.

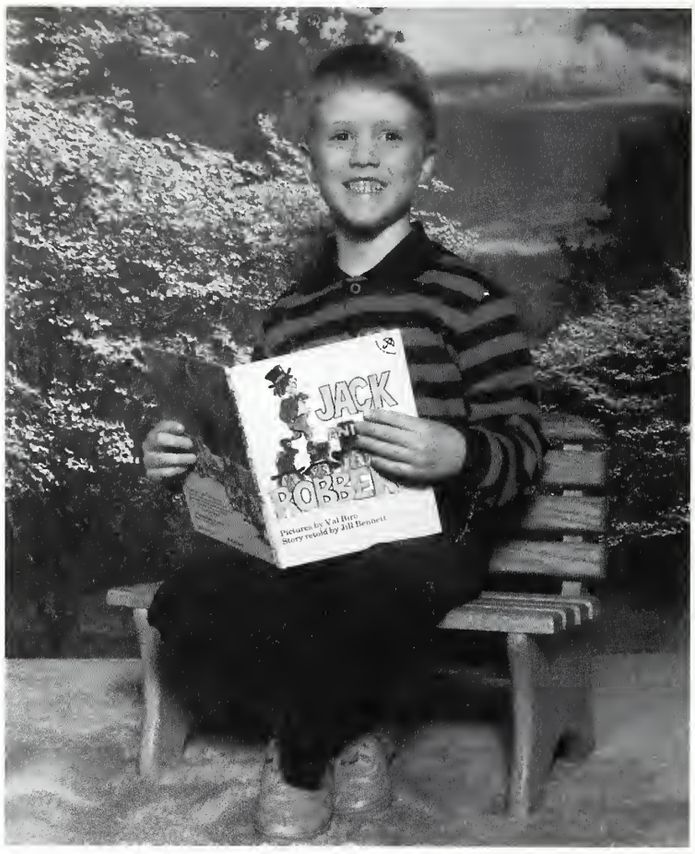
Greg Schildmeier



Here you are at the threshold
Of a new phase of Life.
Look fondly upon the past,
Cherish the friends, the memories,
Appreciating the instruction and love
Others have shown you,
Then leap into the future
With joy and anticipation.
Go with the strength of
Your Faith in God
To conquer the next mountain
Realizing that the love and
Encouragement of your family
Is with you wherever you go.

I WISH YOU ENOUGH
SUN to keep your attitude bright, enough RAIN to appreciate the sun more.
I wish you enough
HAPPINESS to keep your spirit alive, enough PAIN so that the smallest joys in life
appear much bigger.
I wish you enough
GAIN to satisfy your wanting,
enough LOSS to appreciate all that you possess.
I wish you enough
"HELLO'S" to get you through the final "GOODBYE."
Our dear son, we wish you always,
ENOUGH.
LOVE FROM MOM & DAD

Class of 2002

Amy Richardson

I know it has not always been easy, but I am thankful for the experiences of watching you grow into a beautiful young woman. I am so proud of you and I will treasure the memories forever. I can not wait to see what lies ahead for you. Enjoy life, keep that wonderful smile on your face, and let the angels guide your way. I love you always.

Class of 2002

Megan Wolford

Megan,

We see the path you've made on your own.

We see the many unique talents and gifts you have to share.

We see your brilliance, your enthusiasm, and how deeply you care, and sometimes hurt.

We see your hard-earned wisdom, your soft, pure innocence, your courage and compassion, your unconditional goodness.

We see what a difference you make in this world, and in ours.

We LOVE you and will always be there for you.

We hope your life will be happy, prosperous, and full of LOVE.

Wishing you much success in your future,

Mom, Dad, & Devon

Class of 2002

Autumn Strong

My Dear Autumn,

Since the day you came into this world, you've been more of a joy than you'll ever know. As I've watched you grow through the years; from your first steps through high school and everything in between; I've always been so proud of you. I've watched you grow into a lovely young lady that any parent would be proud of. You should be proud of yourself too; as you've achieved many good things in your young life. As you go onto college, know that I'll always be here for you. Autumn, we are so blessed to have each other. We love you so much.

We love you so much,
Mom and Larry

Class of 2002

Haley Wildrick

Haley,

It seems like only yesterday the class of 2002 seemed so far away. Yet here it is. You are a beautiful young woman who's accomplished so much. From little league softball, girl scouts, orchestra, track and, your favorite, cross country.

There's a whole world waiting for you to explore and make your mark in. We're so proud of you, Haley, for who you are and who you'll become. Always believe in yourself and reach for the stars.

We love you,
Mom, Dad, Heather, and Eric

Class of 2002

Stephanie Thomas

Stephanie,

We wish you all the luck and support as you start your adventure as an adult. As you go on to college we hope that you will always remember the love that we have for you. We will always be there for you. Always remember the fun times we have had and the fun times to come when you are down. Always shoot for the best even though you may have to work harder.

Love Always,
Mom, Dad, Jackie, and Erick

Class of 2002 Kristin Swisher

Kristin,

Only a few years ago you were building cities with blocks and running your first race in the Popcorn Festival. The miles of running, show choir performances, leadership, academics, and development of wonderful relationships have made you who you are today. You are an exceptional young lady who has made us proud beyond words. You have brought us endless smiles each and every day. Choices with challenges continue to be ever present in your life. As you look toward the future, know we will always be there for you. We will be ever present, ever proud, and forever loving you. Thank you for being you.

Dad, Mom, and Jack

Class of 2002 Melony Jordan

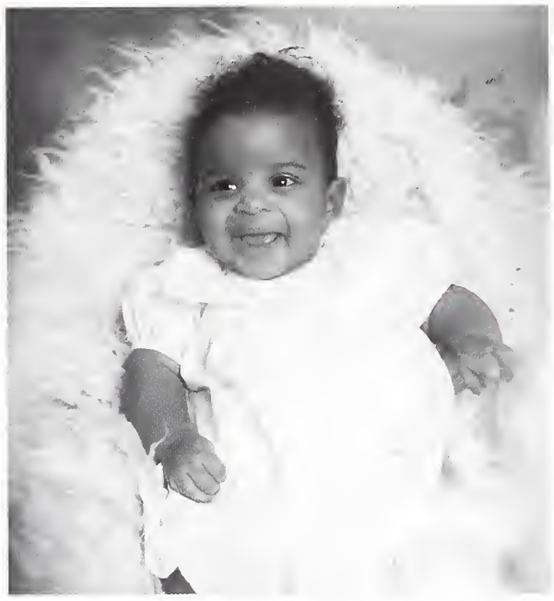
Melony,

Congratulations to Daddy's Little Girl!!! You made it and we are so proud of you and your accomplishments. It doesn't seem that long ago when horses and My Little Ponies were all you really thought about. Now, too quickly, you have grown from our little girl into a beautiful young lady. With an easy-going spirit and a pleasing personality, you have a future to truly make something of your life. We hope all of your dreams come true! We love you and will always be here for you!!

Love,
Dad & Mom Jordan

Class of 2002

Melinda Dorsey



Melinda,

It seems like only yesterday you were starting kindergarten. Today you're a beautiful young lady embarking on the "rest of your life." My, how time flies. We are so proud of you.

We admire you for all you've accomplished, for your willpower and determination. And most of all, for always remaining the same wonderful person you are. You have been the light at the end of the tunnel for each of us. In such a short time, you've taught us so much about life and living. Your smile, your silliness, your compassion, and maturity are what make you special. Thank you for being you and for bringing "Meet Me at the Post Office" into our lives.

Go forward with your dreams. Grow and learn as you go, and never stop believing in yourself.

We love you and will always be here for you.

Love always,

Dad, Mom, Michelle, and Melissa

Amanda Cook

Amanda,

It is really hard to believe that you are graduating and will soon be off to college. We are so proud of you for all of your hard work in school, and most of all for being a WONDERFUL DAUGHTER.

Keep up the good work and we are sure that you will succeed at all endeavors that you pursue.

Love,
Mom, Dad, and Eric

Class of 2002

Darcy Engh

Once there was an unusual, little girl named Darcy. One day, when Darcy was in kindergarten, she found a caterpillar on the playground. After Darcy had played with the caterpillar for a while, her kindergarten teacher turned to her and said, "Darcy, stop playing with that worm." Darcy then said one more thing to her tiny, little playmate. She said, "YOU'RE NOT A WORM - YOU'RE A BUTTERFLY."

Thank you Darcy, for helping us to remember the potential that all things hold, especially YOU. May you always "find your butterfly."

Remember: "It is in the falling that we find our wings." Surprise yourself with how high you can fly.

We love you,
Mom, Dad,
Amanda, and Bryan

Class of 2002

Seniors

To the class of '02,

What a journey this past year has been. There have been plenty of twists and turns and a few bumps in the road. All in all, it has been a good ride, and I am glad to have travelled with you.

I know your journey doesn't end here, but this is where I get off. Move ahead in the direction of happiness; go for your dreams. Remember you're the one in the driver's seat. I look forward to hearing about your destination.

Love,
Ms. Widgren

Class of 2002

Student Council Officers

2002 Council Members:

As you walk down the halls of Conseco Fieldhouse on May 30, your high school years will be but a memory. However, "commencement" doesn't mean the end of a part of your lives, but rather a beginning.

You have done an awesome job this year. You demonstrated great leadership this year, and your collective heart has overflowed with compassion and an understanding of the need to help others. You displayed tremendous strength, courage, and resilience when the very heart of our nation was threatened.

In the years to come you will be faced with many important decisions - among them where to live, whom to love, what profession to pursue, what values to uphold. Sometimes your decisions will be difficult and you will walk the path alone. Remember to be strong, be a leader, be true to yourself and the values and morals that have gotten you where you are today.

Best wishes to a great group of Student Council members!

Love, Mrs. Wolff

Nate Delay, 12
"[I participate in] soccer for school. I played center-guard and tackle for the football team... that is center of the bench, guard of the water, and tackle anybody who tries to get it. My best friend is my Nanna. [My first day freshman year] I heard freshman got shoved in lockers on a regular basis and I nearly soiled my drawers."

Colophon

800 copies of the 65th volume of the yearbook were printed by Herff Jones Yearbooks at the cost to students of $40 each. Mrs. Cathy Wolfe served as the Herff Jones representative, and Lori Daniels was the in-plant consultant. Mrs. Alison Baldwin was the yearbook advisor, Mr. Mark Haab was the Publications Director, and Mr. Tony Burchett was the principal. The book was printed on 80-pound matte paper. All photos were taken and developed in Warren Central's dark room by the staff photographers, or taken and developed by Prestige Portraits. All page layouts were created on Pagemaker 7.0 software.

As the final days of school are approaching, I am beginning to think about all of the good times that we've had as a staff. I will never forget our staff parties or our trip to Ball State for J-Day. We learned so much! Going to Boston was fun too, although I think we shopped a lot more than we attended classes. I want to thank everyone on staff for all of the hard work you've done. Everyone has contributed so much to the yearbook. Thank you for all of the fun times. This year wouldn't have been the same without Megan's creative sign, (Yaboerok!) or Lyndsey's stories. Steph, thank you for being the best production manager! Without you we wouldn't have any of the sports scores! Jen, it's been great working with you and best of luck in the future. Our photogs were great this year. You guys have truly made the yearbook what it is. I also want to thank Mrs. Baldwin. Thank you for always ordering us pizza when we need a staff birthday party. It has been a great year because of you! Mr. Haab, Thanks for always fixing our broken computers. I want to wish Lauren and Sarah the best of luck next year. You guys will do a great job. To all 5 of the seniors on staff: Good Luck in all you do. Have fun in college and I will see you at our class reunion. I love you guys!

Amanda

A Final Thought...

Another year of high school has finally come to an end. As we entered the halls on the first day of school, we expected changes, but not of the magnitude that we have experienced. We all know there are No Words Needed to preserve the memories of this year. Despite the sad images that linger in our minds, we have fought together to also remember the fun times of being young. We watched new parts of the school spring up where before there were only fields and parking lots. Our sports teams made us proud with victories that made headlines in Football, Wrestling, and Girl's Track. Although some spirit events were lost, we more than made up for it with what events we did have. We wore red, white and blue on every USA Pride day, and had more fun than ever with other dress-up days. We stayed out late to dance all night at the dances, and headed to the Steak~N~Shake afterwards. We studied for classes, and celebrated when finals were finished. As we headed into the summer, we looked back at the memories we had made and knew that we had been changed as well.

Stacy Griner, a member of the class of 2002, gives a little wave to her family as she walks off of the stage after receiving her diploma. Each graduating senior was given eight tickets for family members and friends, which left many students wanting extras. The ceremony took close to three hours, but was a night to remember for all who attended.

Soldiers stand in front of the U.S. Capitol as President Bush gives a speech at the 21st Annual Peace Officer's Association Memorial Service. This service was held on May 15. The memorial was held in honor of Policemen and Firemen who lost their lives in service. Said President Bush, "Today we give thanks for the special courage of the fallen - those whose watch ended with their lives."
